Slow down, what's on your mind
It's alright, I'm on your side
I hate to see your injury
I wish that you could transfer all your pain to me

Stay here, it's okay to cry
Let me, help you make it right
Lets turn up the radio
Let the band remind you that your not alone

Even the brave they depend on someone
The moon only shines with the help of the sun
And it's not as safe when your walking alone
I'll walk you home

The suns out, but it feels like rain
So I will
I'm afraid of losing it
What's it gonna take for me to get through this We'll get through this

Even the brave they depend on someone
The moon only shines with the help of the sun
And it's not as safe when your walking alone
I'll walk you home

Leave the band to play the song
Someones hand to keep you strong
It's harder when your on your own
Success is not the same alone

Can't drive up without the ground
Need the strength the have the ground
I will provide the harmony
Your son is best to come with me

Even the brave they depend on someone
The moon only shines with the help of the sun
And it's not as safe when your walking alone
I'll walk you home (x3)
