Always a violent sight
The one of your face in the night vision blur
Another silent night
Since closing the door to the world that we were

And as I walk to the bar
With an unwanted love that is locked to your name
I know that saying one word
Will draw me right back into your world again

So look the other way (So look the other way)
There's nothing you can do can make it right (There's nothing you can do can make it right) There's nothing more to say (There's nothing more to say)
And all I want to do is black you out (And all I want to do is black you out)
Will never let you near again (Will never let you near again)
Will never let you talk your way back in (Will never let you talk your way back in)
Just look the other way (Just look the other way)
Just look the other way (Just look the other way)

And you talk to my friends
Saying it kills you to see me like this Feeling you painfully close
As you say: "Yet these ways are what make her what she is"

And in a prettier world
I'd try to transform all the warmth that remains
But why should I let you win
When you never cared enough to care all the way

So look the other way (So look the other way)
There's nothing you can do can make it right (There's nothing you can do can make it right) There's nothing more to say (There's nothing more to say)
No, this will be another silent night (No, this will be another silent night)

Will never let you near again (Will never let you near again)
Will never let you talk your way back in (Will never let you talk your way back in)
So look the other way (So look the other way)
Just look the other way (Just look the other way)

And I wish that you would scream and shout
And say 'baby, please, just hear me out'

But you don't
And you won't
So I keep on protecting myself from my hopes
No, you don't
And you won't
So I keep on protecting myself from you, oh

Just look the other way (Just look the other way)
Just look the other way (Just look the other way)
Just look the other way (Just look the other way)
Just look the other way (Just look the other way)
Just look the other way
