Verse 1:

Sometimes I know my attitude can be a little much Sometimes I take things overboard and I just gotta buzz
Sometimes I'm hot, really hot, then I'm freezing cold Yes you still take me in your arms and I just let it go Never for a second baby should you ever feel like you're in this alone
So don't you worry, cos I got you
Your heart is in my hands and I'm not letting go

Chorus:

You already know what I say is true
You already know my heart beats for you
You already know that no one in this world can take me
from you
You already know you can't deny
You already know it's written in the sky
You already know, you know without you in my life I'm half empty
My heart, my heart, half empty, my heart, my heart

Verse 2:

They say you don't know what you got until its up and gone
But I'ma skip that chapter, turn the page, keep holdin' on Cos I know what I got and what I got is worth more than platinum and gold
And I keep telling you just like the broken record, ohh
Never for a second baby should you ever feel like
you're in this alone
So don't you worry, cos I got you
Your heart is in my hands and I'm not letting go

Chorus:

You already know what I say is true
You already know that no one in this world can take me
from you
You already know you can't deny

You already know it's written in the sky
half empty

Bridge:

I know it's impossible for you to read my mind
But my heart is an open book
All you have to do is look inside
And my love you'll find

Chorus:

You already know what I say is true
You already know that no one in this world can take me
from you
You already know you can't deny
You already know it's written in the sky
half empty

Ooo oh ooo oh, half empty....
