See, I can't think of nothing
That I wanted more, that I would die for
Than my dreams
Might not seem all that important to you
But it's everything to me

More precious than a diamond
A sweet melody, the stroke of a key to my soul
You can't put a price on that, baby

All my life I always had this gift inside me
And I just wanna share it
Even if that means going broke
I don't have a lot of money
But I'm the wealthiest girl in the world
Hear these words I say to you
I'm just a poor little rich girl
See, there's a price for fame and fortune
That might seem costly for me
But this is what I was born to do
I'm just a poor little rich girl
I'm just a poor little rich girl
I'm just a poor little rich girl

For me is not the riches
Or the beautiful things that can come with fame
'Cause I know that come automatic anyway
And the truth of the matter
Is I can never broke as long as it's gonna shine through
And I'm as rich as I will ever be

All my life I always had this gift inside me
And I just wanna share it
Even if that means going broke
I don't have a lot of money
But I'm the wealthiest girl in the world
Hear these words I say to you
I'm just a poor little rich girl
See, there's a price for fame and fortune
That might seem costly for me
But this is what I was born to do

I'm just a poor little rich girl
Open your heart and let the music take you over
See, this you can't buy
Your money can't give this to you

I don't have a lot of money
But I'm the wealthiest girl in the world
Hear these words I say to you
I'm just a poor little rich girl
See, there's a price for fame and fortune
That might seem costly for me
But this is what I was born to do
I'm just a poor little rich girl
I'm just a poor little rich girl
I'm just a poor little rich girl
I'm just a poor little rich girl
I'm just a poor little rich girl
