

Karine Polwart

"The Journey"

Visit "The Journey" on MotoLyrics.com

It feels like a part of me
Is falling asleep
And there will be
No chance for awakening

The ship of death awaits me to embark
An endless journey the ascension of mine

I stand in front of the holy shrine
But I forever renounce Christ

I thought to leave forever the light
When I had the never known wisdom
To cast a forgotten spell of sight

To open the hidden gate to freedom
Of the ones who rest forever in peace

I follow myself to the ruins of pain
Where old wounds do open wide

Hurted by drops of blood the red rain
Of remembrance that will never remain

I imagine their souls uneven in the dark
No chance for being released
As grave candles illuminate the grief

Believe in ME !
For my soul I have found ...

Visit Karine Polwart page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.