

Karine Polwart

"The Sun's Comin' Over The Hill"

Visit "The Sun's Comin' Over The Hill" on MotoLyrics.com

Six rain ridden summers and he still had an eye for me
He kissed me each evening and told me he'd die for me

And then he ran off the road, full of whisky and irony
He always meant what he said

So I took to whisky so I could recall
The taste of his mouth on my mouth, that's all
I tried the same trick with a truck but it stalled
The engine was better off dead

CHORUS

Oh the nights are long
But life is longer still
Oh the nights are long
But the sun's coming over the hill

The taste never left me and I don't think it will
And it caused me to supplement whisky with pills
But there was something inside that I couldn't kill Believe me, I really did try

And there's some say you get what you deserve but they're wrong
Sometimes you get what you're given and then it's all gone
And you are lucky if you are sufficiently strong
To daily decide not to die

CHORUS

I can't say there's many things I wouldn't change
There are better days gone than those that remain
But I can find joy in the sound of the rain
You have to find joy where you can

CHORUS X 2

Visit Karine Polwart page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

