I never made the bed,
Slept on the couch instead,
Snuggled in real tight until I drifted away.

And I had a dream,
I had a dream about you,
I was lying beside you with nothing to do,
And the sun started to rise over every hill,
And I scratched my eyes,
For it wasn't. it wasn't what you will,
They were burning it all,
They didn't want it anymore and they'd decided not to kill.
So I went outside to see what they were doing
The kids started to tell me... they; re burning it all
And I asked them what?
And they smiled at me and they said...

They're burying uranium and they're burning it for you And they're burning uranium... they're burning it for you,
So I told them tell them to burn it all,
And they laughed to themselves while they ran away,
So I climbed into bed,
And I drifted away,
Woke in the morning with nothing to say,
Cause they're burying uranium and they're burning it for
you,
You told them burn it all we didn't want they're big ball.
