"All Walk Alone"

In the door I see
Like a frozen dream
Your face
As you turned and walked away
Our love lies broken
But the world goes on
Where it stands in time
We'll know further on

But I learned from you
As you were passing through
That love would never
Find my heart a home
A pause in the end
We all walk alone

Well it's sad to me
That we can't seem to keep
Alive the magic we had at the start
Infatuation blinds us
Like a blazing sun
If we'd seen the end
Well would we have begun

But I learned from you
As you were passing through
That love would never
Find my heart a home

A pause in the end
We all walk alone

Now as I move on
To a place that's strong
I'll think of you
And wonder where you are
And when someday you see me
On a crowded street
I think you'll see
In my eyes
My life is complete

Because I learned from you
As you were passing through
That love would never
Find my heart a home
Because in the end
We all walk alone
