I've been waiting for this feeling
Never knew just what to call it
There's no name because it's honest
A kind of out-of-body thinking
It's so different when I'm with you
Something special that I'm into
And it feels like a breakthrough...

Take me, show me the view from the Ceiling, straight up, and give me the
Feeling that we're flying, that we're
Glowing, up there and out there
Floating, watching the stars and
Observing life like satellites up here
Like satellites up here

I grew up there in the middle
Thought that there was no place better
And I never left the center
But then you made my rhyme a riddle
Turned my backwards into beauty
You were eager to expose me
And I'd never been so ready...

Take me, show me the view from the
Ceiling, straight up, and give me the
Feeling, that we're flying, that we're
glowing, up there and out there
Floating, watching the stars and
Observing life like satellites up here
Like satellites up here

Living like satellites up
Living like satellites up here...

Take me, show me the view from the
Ceiling, straight up, and give me the
Feeling, that we're flying, that we're
Glowing, up there and out there
Floating, watching the stars and
Observing life like satellites up here
Like satellites up here
