Are you willing to choose what I have in my mind?
Say it loud, with a voice of no reason in mind
I suppose this question will be answered
And I suppose the answers are here to save us
Have you heard have you listened lately?
Single word, single vowel, yet nothing frustrates me

Now I don't think you like me now
Now I don't think you like me now

Have you heard, its a silent dream
It chooses the weather, of your soul stream
So drop me down, let me feel this either way
Face me inside, with a broken view,
A broken heart, disappear
Now I don't think you like me now
Now I don't think you're like me now

Hold it, Hold it
I won't leave you

Now hold it down, please

Ahhh ohhh, ahhh ohhh

Sing alone, sing aloud, to be alive, its so good to feel you near
Swim alone, live a dream, see me drown,
All this in apathy
Be still for a moment
So you can face this world, you face it all for a moment
So you can face this world, you face this world

Hold it, Hold it
I won't leave you

Now hold it down, please
