Heartbreak, heart mend, here we go again
You're standing at my door.
Heart make, heart rend, one more time again
This heart gonna wind up sore.
I thought we laid this ghost to rest
Its here with us again.
Your husband is a good, good man
And surely needs a friend.

Your high bone cheek your ruby lips
You eyes so dark and deep.
Heartbreak, heart mend, one more time again
My love you murd'rously.

My husband is a good, good man
I know he loves me true.
He cares for me and treats me well
But not the way you do.
Heartbreak, heart mend, here we go again
I'm staring at your clothes.
Heart make, heart rend, one more time again
Oh, god please save our souls.

I love the light upon your face
I love your dusty song.
Heartbreak, heart mend, one more time again
I know I'm not the strong.

Heartbreak, heart mend, here we go again
You're sitting on my bed.
Heart make, heart rend, one more time again
This hearts gonna wind up dead.

Slip on your shoes put on your coat
It's time for you to go.
Now dry your eyes and fix your hair
And kiss me nice and slow.
