Well, if you see someone lighting up the dark
Just tell him to bring back my heart
And if you see someone tearing me apart
Just tell him to bring back my heart

Well, he'll be running faster than a mouse who's scared
After all the rain comes down
He might be empty handed but he's danger
Like a bandit on the wrong side of town

But I, I won't cry, oh, I know we have to part
So just tell him to bring back my heart

Well, if you see someone shining like a spark
Just tell him to bring back my heart
Well, if you see someone tearing me apart
Just tell him to bring back my heart

Well, he'll be running faster than a mouse who's scared
After all the rain comes down
He might be empty handed but he's danger
Like a bandit on the wrong side of town

But I, I won't cry, oh, I know we have to part
So just tell him to bring back my heart
No I, I won't cry, no, I know we have to part
So just tell him to bring back my

Just tell him to bring back my
Just tell him to bring back my heart
