

Kasey Chambers

"Falling Into You"

Visit "Falling Into You" on MotoLyrics.com

I've been crushed like paper
I've been washed like rain
I've been scared of sleeping
In case I wake up the same
I've been broken and battered
I've been lost in my home
I've been cryin' river
I've been cold as a stone

But falling into you
It carries me far enough away
And everything you do
It lightens up my darkness side of day
I just hope that the wind doesn't blow you away

I've been left unattended
I've been thrown like a ball
I've been rolled with the punches
And I didn't feel a thing at all
I've been crossed by the wires
I've been blinded by the light
I've been burnt by the fire
I've been kept out of sight

But falling into you
It carries me far enough away
And everything you do
It lightens up my darkness side of day
I just hope that the wind doesn't blow you away
I just hope that the wind doesn't blow you away

Visit Kasey Chambers page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.