Do you dare to follow me?
Into the place where you can see

What you've missed, what it could be
Can you taste it? Can you feel?
So many secrets can be revealed
Chaos of truth lives in here

There's written the name of unknown
But can you handle what is shown?

I've been so many nights

So many years wasted away
Still I'm searching, maybe I'll find
What's been written in these stones of life

I made my mission, just show the door to you
It's your choice, are you going to make it through Thought of dark haunts you, flames of fear grown into crossfire of souls, flames haunts you
