A list of things that should be said
Now weighs a forest on your tongue
And all your virtues safely kept
In vaseline have slipped by gone

Put it on the vast choir sings
Let the Broncos run wild again
Wipe it off that purgatory grin
Cause it's all too convincing

Show me that it's easy
Say that you are in need of me
Don't talk of the costs
With a mouthful of wasps
Time is up, so let them all fly
Up in the sky.

Yes, I was taught among your kind Kashmir Mouthful Of Wasps lyrics found on
By drilling tunnels towards the core
In through the multi-detailed mind where rich and simple is at war
Put it on the vast choir sings
Let the Broncos run wild again
wipe it off that diabolic grin
Cause it's so contrived
And it frightens me

Show me that you're easy
Say that you believe in me
Don't act out your frost
with a mouthful of wasps
Time is up so them all fly

Behind those weary eyes some broken story hides
I need to know and you have to show
Before it strikes its roots
And strangles everything
