

The Catch

"Start Of Something"

Visit "Start Of Something" on MotoLyrics.com

I can see it in the way she smiles. It's in the way she laughs (of you)
No time for those denials; I know that she's in love with you
She didn't mean you harm when she tried to break your arm
The storm before the calm again
When she called you a disgrace and slapped you the face
She longed for your embrace. My friend.
This could be the start of something? could be the start of something good.
You know it could. Don't go ending something?
Don't go thinking that you should. I never would But why the dented pride? (just see the other side). So she tried to kill you once or twice?
Just let your heart decide (and take her love inside).
She's going to rake you by surprise.
When you walk into a room. She leaves it just as soon.
To fall into a swoon. Oh yeah.
Though she kicked you in the head and says that you're inbred. She dreams of you in bed.
I bet.
If I were you I'd know not to let a good thing go when the bruises hardly show?
This could be the start of something? much Ado about something good.
You know it could. Don't go ending something?
Don't go thinking that you should. I never would? I never would.

Visit The Catch page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.