Cataclysmic detonation
Inside the mind and the world of devastation
We bring fire and power to revolution
The earth shakes and trembles into isolation

10 seconds from the end
One chance to make it right
10 seconds from the end
One life to take it back

If you had one moment left before the end to repent
And think of all your life
Question things you've learned
From all these distant memories

They say you learn till the end of time
So, your mind is strong and wise
Ironically my friend. it's always time to die

Cataclysmic detonation
Inside the mind and the world of devastation
We bring fire and power to revolution
The earth shakes and trembles into isolation

10 seconds from the end
One chance to make it right
10 seconds from the end
One life to take it back
