Love you turning all my pages
Love you wearing my robes
Wide awake in cold England
After the door is closed

Fine to learn another language
Fine to spin a white thread
Who's a garbage man? Who's a chief?
Who's a monkey in my bed?

And it's a fine
Baby, it's just a timeshare
It's a fine contagious disease
And it's a fine swirling white guardsman
Lay a tombstone on me

Stop yearning, stop burning
Staying out late at night
Showing her the proper courtship
Make her mama feel all right

Come along a good husband
Come along a fair bride
Call the latest inception
And you look clean inside

And its a fine
Baby, it's just a timeshare
It's fine contagious disease
And its a fine swirling white guardsman
Lay a tombstone on me
