I used to think that love
Could never take a hold
Spin a line round me
It feels so natural
To give into you, give into my needs.

But clearly I'm not thinking too straight
Honest and true.
I'm not really handling this
What else can I do.

But Surrender,
Don't be tender
My heart is on the line.
Don't be tender
Don't make me
What can't be mine.

But surrender,
Don't be tender
My heart is on the line.
Don't be tender
Don't make me what can't be mine.

It's all so bittersweet
Your touch lingers on
Even after you're gone
There's no escape for me
I'll give into you, give into my needs

But clearly I'm not thinking too straight
Honest and true
I'm not really handling this
What else can I do

But Surrender,
Don't be tender
My heart is on the line
Don't be tender
Don't make me what can't be mine.

Do you, miss me baby
Do you, miss me baby
Do you, love me baby, enough too let me go.

But Surrender,
Don't be tender
My heart is on the line
Don't be tender
Don't make me what can't be mine.

But Surrender,
Don't be tender
My heart is on the line
Don't be tender
Don't make me what can't be mine.

Do you, miss me baby
Do you, miss me baby
Do you, love me baby enough too let me go.

Do you, miss me baby
Do you, miss me baby
Do you, love me baby enough too let me go.
