Oh my darling, I'm so far in, I can't see my feet
Your water deep is washing over me 50 states might separate us, but it only makes me see how much you mean, yeah.

Well when your whisper brought me outta my slumber
I stumbled under some kind of spell Now the distance gives me reason to wonder how I'll recover from our farewell

[chorus]
'Cause these days, doesn't matter what you say,
I'm a mess when you're away & unless you come back
I'll be one step closer to insane It's enough to keep me lying wide awake counting the ways that I miss you, babe

Complications, conversations late into the night
I'm over the same old hello goodbye So leave me speechless, I miss that feeling with each lonely evening that goes by,
I can't describe it

Well San Francisco has a way with the summer and fall does a number to New York City

But regardless of the season above us You're doing something that's sure to get me..

[chorus]
'Cause these days, doesn't matter what you say,
I'm a mess when you're away & unless you come back
I'll be one step closer to insane
It's enough to keep me lying wide awake counting the ways that I miss you, baby

Save me, give my troubled heart what it's been aching daily for, woahhh I'm hoping you know me enough to see That I can't be alone anymore

These days, doesn't matter what you say

I'm a mess when you're away and unless you come back, well I'll be one step closer to insane
It's enough to keep me lying wide awake counting the ways that I miss you, baby ohh, ohh, ohhhhh counting the ways I miss you, baby.
