Co-old is my hear-eart, fi-illed with loneline-ess

I don't wanna fee-eel this empty roo-oo-oom

Or feel alone agai-ain

But I must rememeber-er this

I ha-ave no crista-al ba-all

I can see the o-other side of the wa-a-all

Let me be fi-illed with faith again

(See things slippin' away)

See-ee things slippin' away

(See things slippin' away)

I don't know if I should laugh or-or cry-y

(See things slippin' away)

It's a simple act of faith,
si-imple act, simple act of fai-ai-ai-aith

Oh the spiritual world, is fi-illed with second cha-ance

I will never fee-eel that such a gi-i-ift

Is just a circumsta-ance

So my day will end i-in prayer

And I'll no-ot be una-aware-are

O-o-of the li-ight that fills my roo-oo-oom

Let me hear-ear that voice again

(See things slippin' away)

See-ee things slippin' away

(See things slippin' away)

I don't know if I should laugh or-or cry-y

(See things slippin' away)

It's a simple act of faith,
si-imple act, simple act of fai-ai-ai-aith

And now the wheel ha-as turned

I'm no-ot alone anymore-ore

I have learned to ne-ever close the door-oor-oor

I am fi-illed with faith again

(See things slippin' away)

See-ee things slippin' away

(See things, slippin' away)

I don't know if I should laugh or-or cry-y

(See things slippin' away)

It's a simple act faith, si-imple act, simple act of fai-ai-ai-aith

(See things slippin' away, see things slippin' away)

Don't know if I should laugh or-or cry-y

(See things slippin' away)

It's a simple act of faith, simple act, simple act of fai-aiaith

(See things slippin' away, see things slippin' away, see things slip
