"Deprived From Our Graves"

Right before your eyes, lays the prove to our existence
Faded as it is, yet our world is crying for it
Counting our last days, we shall never deny
The core of absolution that has led us to our end

Hanging - on a rope of righteousness
Falling - from the edge of sanity
Bow down - to the faceless forms above
Falling
Again

Endless modern misery has landed on the earth
The fainted wretched planet that we have crushed to dust
Sentients of god - The eradication comes
The dead are awoken to recreate our live
Deprived from our graves to crawl upon the earth
Deprived from our graves to crawl upon the earth
Deprived from our graves to crawl upon the earth
Deprived from our graves to crawl upon the earth

Deprived from our graves

Bow down
Falling

Right before your eyes, lays the prove to our existence
A shattered reminiscence for the failure and the choice
Swimming in the blood that is yet to be dry
The core of absolution that has led us to our lives
