I know she hurt you
It's clear to see
The scar runs wide and reaches deep Wish I could find the one magic word to dry your eyes and heal your hurt
But you hardly hear me when those memories haunt you so
Baby, believe me you can give up those old ghosts
If you trust me, you don't have to be afraid just trust
me
Leave the past to yesterday
You're never going to ever truly love me, until you trust
me

I know you've heard me saying lines before
Your heart just wants to lock the door I'll wait forever till you let me in Now matter what I'll be your friend
But I'd love to show you the moon is ours tonight
But I'm just glad to hold you till your heart can see the light

And you can trust me

You don't have to be afraid
Just trust me
Leave the past to yesterday
You're never going to ever truly love me
Until you trust me

I'd love to show you the moon is ours tonight,
But I'm just glad to hold you till your heart can see the
And trust me
You don't have to be afraid
Just trust me
Leave the past to yesterday
You've never going to ever truly love me till you trust
me
Trust me, trust me
