Flames are high, lightning fueling my veins
Dragon appears, I saddle up again
Purple rain, anguished odyssey
Cosmic Babylon, destiny, yeah

Hold my fire tonight, it's killing me
Burn dragon ryder high into the next world
Thirteen hours with thirteen minds
Bells toll eternally bleeding my vision

Spectral sky, phantom galaxy
King of fire chasing after me
Liquid planets melt into my eyes
Vision is gone, chaos ignites

Hold my fire tonight, it's killing me
Burn dragon ryder high into the next world
Thirteen hours with thirteen minds
Bells toll eternally in this prison

Radiation, nuclear heaven
Sun turns inside out
Warheads flying from the burning moon
Invisible in magnitude

Black corona, supernova
Orion dwarfed from sight
Cosmic halo of the void ignites
We descent into a realm of ice

See if you can take it higher
High as low as I can go

Freeze my fire tonight, I'll take the end
Glass dragon ryder die, unveil the next world
Thirteen planets in thirteen dreams
Transport by death machine, beast of wisdom

Crystal world in coma fantasy
Pale horse brings a burning key
Wings of hell to black rainbows die
Awake again, only half alive

Hold my fire tonight, it's killing me
Burn dragon ryder high into the next world
Thirteen hours with thirteen minds
Bells toll eternally bleeding my vision
