Walking away behind the mirror of nighttime
I'm coming home
Sailing to you aboard a ship of phantoms
Am I the only one?

Is this a dream, is it a nightmare?
What can I do?
Slipping away, I'm falling from this lifeline
I'm coming home to you

Back from hell again
I can take you there

I've fought with an ancient beast that lived inside me
I'm coming home
A casket of stars surrounds this blackened and lost soul
Am I the only one?

Again and again, yeah one more last time
I'm coming home
Walking into a golden mirror of sunshine
I'm coming home to you

Farewell last sunrise
You can take me where
Where the solemn angel rides
Through dust of paradise

Walk with me through
The dust of paradise, my friend
See my world, where the Ghosts of life are sent again

Release your soul from
This mortal coil of life, my friend
See yourself in the mirror
Of beginning again

The end
