"Heavy Load"

For these loners, the open road is where it's at
Got a roaring hot fire between your legs
And it's like riding a sizzling comet across the land

The Reaper called around at midnight, baby
Had some bad news for you
A final warning, the cards you're playing
Are turning back on you

You're living in a high speed world so crazy
Burning out of mental fuel
The ball of fortune is getting cloudy
You gotta see it through

You push it up, you pull it down
Keep dragging it round and round
Don't let it crush ya or grind you down
Stop falling to the ground

Just keep rolling, controlling, exploding that heavy load
Tarot woman, my destiny who controls heaven knows
Rolling, controlling, smashing that heavy load
Fire woman give me the key, I'll ride that burning road

The taker of your soul got it for free
He's selling it back to you
But you've got nothing that he needs
Your world he turns for you

The knives are pointing at you in all directions
Your cheating ways were born to lose
Still you keep running in guilty shoes
It's time you faced the truth

Keep pushing up, keep pulling down
Keep on dragging it round and round
Don't let it crush ya, stop falling down
Get yourself above the ground

Just keep rolling, controlling, exploding that heavy load
Tarot woman, my destiny who controls heaven knows
Rolling, controlling, bursting that heavy load

Fire woman give me the key to ride that burning road

The city is alive with ghouls, baby
Who used to be friends with you
But now the living dead are turning
Their dirty backs on you

The joker in the pack is your last card, shit no
You've traded that ace for blues
Cold paranoia, no holy water
Could cleanse the curse from you
