I might be crazy but talking to the wind
Fills a space where you used to fit in
And sometimes I pretend I can hear you answering

Cause I'm missing you, no matter what I do
In the silence of this moment I can barely move
Time wont let me let you go
But I'm still the girl that I was before my heart broke
I'll find a way to be okay alone

Just when I think I've moved on & let you fade Somehow your memory finds a way to break down the walls I made
And leave me drifting through just another day

Of missing you, no matter what I do
In the silence of this moment I can barely move
Time wont let me let you go
But I'm still the girl that I was before my heart broke
I'll find a way to be okay alone

I know I'm strong enough
To move on without your love
And I won't, I won't, I won't, I won't

Be missing you, no matter what I do
In the silence of this moment I can barely move
Time wont let me let you go
But I'm still the girl that I was before my heart broke
I'll find a way to be okay alone
