You said it the perfect way
On your own and out loud
You said it the perfect way
You were strong and resound
They didn't want to hear it
But it's time

You're living in your high hopes
And I know that you're scared
Cause there is a hell below
Anytime you go there
And even the perfect rhyme is a hell of a find

You won't know until you try
You won't know until you try

You will be looking back
On the days that were happy
It'll be hard to see
Why you'd chosen to leave
But never forget the feeling
When it's right

And you won't know until you try
You won't know until you try
You won't know until you try
You won't know until you try
