Young girls
Some were born to dance
Born to take a chance
Others sleep at home
And they dance alone
No one even knows

But you
You were born to touch
Born to want too much
Let the bodies fall
You were born to have it all
Born to have it all

And if you could cry
It would only be for more
Born to be the girl in the mirror
And the others want to be her

If a girl could wish
It would only be to be a girl like this
Oh, 'cause she has it all
And for all they know
That is all there is

Young girls
Some were born to dance
Born to take a chance
Others sleep at home
And they sleep alone
No one even knows
