I never knew her name, But here I am
Growing older, But still young
Another place, Another name
Curiosity in me flies
Wondering why you let me go
But there is no anger I hold

Just to see your face
You look upon mine
Cause I wanna say thanks,
For giving me life
There's no hurting inside

So the days passed by, and now it's years
The time has come for me to reach your heart
And free you with the life you gave to me

The lies and wants bound, you were never mine
And now it's time to set them free
And you can now know me

Just to see your face
You look upon mine
Cause I wanna say thanks,
For giving me life
There's no hurting inside

So I can say that my life's been good
Loving friends surround my door
So there's no need to cry anymore
But there's a place inside you and me
That all the world will never see
Swimming in the sea of mystery

Just to see your face
You look upon mine
Cause I wanna say thanks,
For giving me life

Just to see your face
You look upon mine

Cause I wanna say thanks,
For giving me life
There's no hurting inside

I never knew her name, But here I am
Growing older, But still young
Another place, Another name
