

Catherine Britt"Mind Your Own Business"

Visit "Mind Your Own Business" on MotoLyrics.com

Well I've heard your lies
Through the grapevine of all my friends
It's the same old crap and I'm tired of hearin' 'bout it again
You exaggerate the truth oh lord
And you focus on me cause you're bored

I heard you're talking 'bout me when my back's turned
Why don't you mind your own business
I heard you're talking 'bout me, oh will you ever learn
Why don't you mind your own business
Why don't you mind your own
Mind your own business

Well it seems to me you got too much time on your hands
Going round acting like you're in with all of the bands
Well bad news travels fast
And karma will bite you in the arse

I heard you're talking 'bout me when my back's turned
Why don't you mind your own business
I heard you're talking 'bout me, oh will you ever learn
Why don't you mind your own business
Why don't you mind your own
Mind your own business

Well is your life so bland that you care about all that I do
Well I hate to say it but I actually feel sorry for you
Well I don't think it's best to throw stones
When you've surely made mistakes of your own

I heard you're talking 'bout me when my back's turned
Why don't you mind your own business
I heard you're talking 'bout me, oh will you ever learn
Why don't you mind your own business
Why don't you mind your own, mind your own
Mind your own business

