Hyde Park

Good morning,
I was waiting for the sun to shine.
It's a lovely day to take a walk and forget about the pouring rain.

So, would like to spend the evening with me?
We'd share a park bench!
Let the time go on its own way while we'd eat an apple.
Leaving it all behind,
under the sun in Hyde Park.

Hello my lover,

I know we've been sailing under stormy weather.
But now we've turned the page girl,
Aren't you glad that finally we can see the sun?

So would you like to spend the evening with me,
on the green grass?
I'll take my guitar; you can take a book to read if you want to.
Leaving it all behind,
under the sun in Hyde Park. *
