(Beth Moore)

Oh, you think you've got me down the way you cheat and run around
If you only knew that I'm no longer blind You've always had your way what I've learned that two can play
Now we both have a cheatin' good time.

You like to play the game of have your cake and eat it too
I used to be so tame now I take on after you You'd never think your wife would ever cheat and lie
But after you leave I'm right behind
And I'm always home before you've come sneaking
through the door
And we both have a cheatin' good time.

--- Instrumental ---

You like to play the game of have your cake and eat it
I used to be so tame now I take on after you Now I play your game so well oh but you could never tell Your fish took the bait and left your line
And I'm always home before you've come sneaking
through the door
And we both have a cheatin' good time.

Yes, we both have a cheatin' good time...
