If you see me walking round in circles if you see me staring at the sky
If you think that I still miss you since you left me
Congratulations you're absolutely right
If you think life's been empty since you left me
If you think that I cry for you at night
If you think I take you back in a minute
Congratulations you're absolutely right

If you think that I try to call your number if you think I drive by your house at night
If you think I still love you like I used to
Congratulations you're absolutely right
If you think life's been empty...
