I still remember when my kiss would take your breath away
And when my touch would speak the words that I just couldn't say
Now when I touch you I feel you pushing me away
Is this for real or just an illusion?

What were you thinking when you said those words you said to me
You think your touch would make a girl forget so easily Believe me, boy, I don't wanna ever set you free
We gotta try just to make it right

Love only lasts just as long as you make it
We got a chance to make it right if we take it
Don't give up, don't give up
We got a good thing

Love only lasts just as long as you make it
We got a chance to make it right if we take it
Don't give up, don't give up
We got a good thing

I know I hurt you when the words I say don't come out right
You know I think that everything should be in black and white
We've come to far to give up this love without a fight
I need to know that this love is forever

I never said that I was ever gonna let you go Believe me, boy, I love you more than words could ever show
And if I hurt you there's just one thing you need to know
I'm not the one giving up the fight

If it feels right
Close your eyes just lay back make up all night
Touch my hand take me there baby hold tight
'Cause I know we can both make it alright, alright

If it feels right

Close your eyes just lay back make up all night
Touch my hand take me there baby hold tight
'Cause I know we can both make it alright, alright
