"Gemini Becoming The Tripod"

The portraiture within me rose up
To meet a constellation
Borne on psychic waters
Geometry showed me it's dark side
And showered me with it's arcing plumes

The lovers met in deepest dreams
Tourmaline eyes glinting in the non-light

I bring to thee an orchid I picked
Once as a human from my spiral garden
I held the holy tripod and all the nothing held it's breath

Gemini solemnly split themselves
The world closed it's eyes
Supreme love in the opposite
The world hid in clouds
From a severed two came on
The world quaked in fear
Galaxies slow, and ammonites
The foe e'en trembled in his darksome cave
