Emily
Emily
All of my days spent are crashing around, crashing around
All of my years spent are running around, running
around
All of my weeks spent are crashing around, crashing
around
And you feel..
All of my weeks spent are flitting around, flitting
around
Al of my years spent are waking around, waking
All of my will is blotting her out, it's blotting her out
And you feel, and you feel, and you feel
Emily
And you feel
Emily, Emily, Emily
Well you never really had to know
And you never really had to know
And you never really had to know girl
And you never really lost the part
I mean you never really lost the part, ohh
I mean you never really lost the part
I mean you never really lost the part
I mean you never really lost the part, ohh
Well you never really lost the part
I mean you never really lost the part, ohh
