Keane Ã*f*¢Â€Â" Your love

I didn't want to go Go back and look for you But it's a heartless drug I'm addicted to

And when I drive that road And start to feel that chill I think I see your face Do you come here still

Those were the times and these were the places Your love is so good And now that I'm here, I suddenly find I'm tumbling backwards

I'm back to where I was before Dreaming of glory and your love And I'm laying on your floor Crashed on the surface in your arms

The chemicals react And molecules collide The poison works its way Somewhere down inside

Nothing better anymore
I fell addicted of your love
And I'm banging on your door

Tumbling backwards with your love Over and over in your love

I know that the only goes (?)

And memories that I'm clutching at Maybe I'm reaching back
For something I never had Still it seems so real to me
These rock and threats
That lead me back to youuuuuuuuuuuuu

I'm back to where I was before
Tumbling backwards at your love
And I'm laying on your floor
Crashed on the surface of your love and the other dreams we had Fractioned and frozen with your love
