So now it's over.
What do I do now?
Do I learn from my mistakes?
Realize just how, how I got here
Angry and Alone
Did I succeed in proving you wrong?

My heart is aching
What was I tryin' to prove?
I'm just a lonely winner with nothing left to lose
What about the children?
Angry and Alone
Did I succeed in proving you wrong?

Well I won the battle
But I lost the war
Everything that really matters
Just walked out the door
Well I changed my ways
Do it all over again

In the mirror
Looking back at me
I see the man you said would never change to keep his family
But I'm changin' because I don't want to be alone
I'll succeed in proving you wrong

Because I lost the battle
But I'll win the war
Everything that really matters
Just walked out the door
I will change my ways
If you let me try again
And I'll succeed in proving you wrong

I'll succeed in proving you wrong
I'll succeed in proving you wrong
