The light has died away, for me
I fell silent to the ground, and died
As i started on a journey through the dark.
In the great land of darkness,
I was born again.....dead

Words have lost their meaning now, spells have lost their reason, and do cause harm Humans kill your infants now, to prevent more death
As I am on my journey through the dark

Even dragons have lost their speech roaming wild, forever.....at last

Agnen, a journey through the dark
