Within my quarters where I study the similarities between human and animal These hands have damned this flesh to obscurity and sufferance
I'm going to get the Nobel prize for this I will always be recognized by this
All of humanity shall know my work

These arms - now her legs, sprout from where his head used to be mid-sagittal torso now displaying face grafts I've been making unlimited combinations equal infinite enjoyment new civilization of retarded bastardized creations

To work the flesh
The hand of god.

Implementing new torture
Applied human defragmentation taken apart and re-pieced Defragment complete.

In the name of science Disturbing life's natural balance
To work the flesh
To rething death
Biped defragmentation
The next obvious step in human life preservation Human death - a thing of the past
A defragmented completion - reanimated deletion

Implementing new methods
Revitalize the deathbed
God is insane
New life with shit for brains

Eternal life is at hand
Applied human defragmentation
Taken apart and re-pieced back together again Defragment complete.
