Violently passive consumer Â– vital statistic
A gear in a machine spinning out of control and ever ready to explode
The cemetery will carry on Â– with carrion, turned to ashes
The species will die the harder they try to control the masses

Itemized flesh Â– scanned inventory
A New Testament in greed Taking count Â– humanity is the product Ever expanding the marketplace, dissolving the commonwealth
Pandemic Â– the damnation, epic

If this is the answer, then count me out.
Humanity is the cancer, and I want out.

Dead monolith Â– towering cesspool of Babel
Dreams of tyrants Â– the product alive

Excessive commodity Â– dominant ideology Self-destructive machine spinning out of control and ever ready to implode
The cemetery will carry on Â– with carrion, turned to
ashes
The species will die the harder they try to control the masses

I walked inside the monolith
In plastic I was reborn

If this is the answer, then count me out.
Humanity is the cancer, and I want out.

Dead monolith Â– towering cesspool of babel!
Dreams of tyrants Â– the product alive
