One day the earth must vomit
As sewers and cemeteries
Intertwine into one.
The spitting up of the dead-regurgitated!
The fumes of the rot-exhumated!
The unsettling nature of decomposition
Flesh is flesh
The ground is wet with death
A plague of undead disease
Jellified organic mannequinn
Cold and green muscle striations
What once was life-rebirth through death
The ground opens up at your feet
The fetid smell of sinew-vomiting the rot
Carriers of violent disease
Acids in your stomach expelled-dissolving the dead
Tracheal, purulent release
Upchuck on the maggot-lined trunk
The beautiful act of blowing the chunk
From the earth they'll arise
Regurgitation of corpses
Vomit, decay
The regurgitation of corpses
