I just kissed you goodbye
half an hour ago
I know you've driven to the airport
But I just gotta pick up the phone
And hear you one more time
Saying my name
I must be going outta my mind

Why's it feel so long
Since you've been gone
Why's it feel so long

Time keeps dragging on
Til you get back home
Why's it feel so long
Baby now

Ooooooh, Cause I miss you babe

I've never loved anyone like I love you
So when you're not around
I must confess I lose myself
And I don't know who or where I am
I might be crazy
Crazy about being your man

Why's it feel so long
Since you've been gone
Why's it feel so long
(I don't know why)
Time keeps dragging on
Til you get back home
Why's it feel so long

When I finally see you
I know it'd be like never left at all
But there's no cantillation
Tonight isn't waiting
Praying maybe you'll call
Call me, call me, baby

Tell me now

Why's it feel so long
Since you've been gone
Why's it feel so long
(I don't know why)
Time keeps dragging on
Til you get back home
Why's it feel so long

Why's it feel so long
Since you've been gone
Why's it feel so long
(I don't know why)
Time just crawls along

I look in my watch
Stare at the clock
They don't move
I don't need a round
Just frozen on the couch
So second feel like hours
An hour's like a day
It's strike like a zone in this home
When you go away

At least don't go away
