[music & lyrics: Jeff]

A vanity rises in the middle of our motion - with ever-changing colours of Illusive existential components - unfictitious presence, scars and Withdrawal, leaving us to wonder... - i want to see, but my eyes are blind
- should i seek for a guidance of my life? - beyond a flock of confusion - I ask for a return to original form - without any agreement or concensus - Determination has already been chosen - free us from a process of Decadence - free us from a procession to our graves - back to the state Where things just started - back to the place where i belong - i want to See, but my eyes are blind - should i seek for a guidance of my life?
