Open heart

Open mind

A lot depends on what we say

Afraid to say things the wrong way

But I believe you

I can feel you now

Breathing slow

You seem so still

Never before in my life have I felt

The way I did tonight when I knelt

Before you

There's a light in you

If beauty is skin deep

Then your skin is made of glass

Oh Mother Earth please hear me

We may never learn from the past

This is the beginning of The End
