Yesterday we kept a safer distance
We walked a borderline that seems so clear
We crossed that line last night
It vanished with the morning light
Now I wanna know, where do we go from here
Chorus:
What does your heart say know
Now that we've touched, now that we've kissed
What does your heart say know
Now that it's come to this
Is it the same, or has something changed
Last night we said things one soul to another
In ways that spoken words could not express
No room was left for doubt
But I don't know where I stand now
Don't leave me in the dark
Don't make me guess
- Chorus -
