"No Angel"

Take off that halo you don't deserve it
Shiny things used to make me think that these Wings you wear left you so above
Those who lie to make themselves feel at ease

Feed me the lines wrapped in lies
I guessed I believed what you said to me
I had hoped for something more
As we held so close but now I see

That you are no angel
What you did to me I just can't believe

Nothing but a tease to reality
How could you say those words; say them to me
I had hoped for something more
As we held so close but now I see
