She was abused he thought it brung amused but it Really brought pain
The shame being known as the girl with no name it Droved her insane
The lie's, rumors, and the blame she couldn't no Longer take the rain

She was only 15 she didn't now where her dreams Led she wanted to be a singer But didn't know about the pain it might bring her Fed up, fed up ohhh she was fed up

She thought she was in love with the boy that Brung her down left her everyday With a frown black eyes on her way too school but She always kept it cool
But the tears layed inside questions why pop in Her head late at night while sShe sit on her bed wishing she was dead.
