life was a song, you came along I lie awake the whole night through If i should dare, to think you care this is why I said to you you were meant for me, and i was meant for you nature freshen too and when she was done you were all those good things, roll into one you're like a plative melody, that never less will be

I'm content that the angel must have sent you
and they made you just for me.
